Bexar County to Host Third Annual Tricentennial Symposium “Spain’s Encounter with the New World”

WHAT: Bexar County Judge Nelson Wolff and Commissioners Court are sponsoring the third annual Tricentennial Historic Research Symposium, under the direction of Dr. Felix D. Almaraz, Jr. and Dr. Paul T. Ringenbach.

This year’s theme is “A Historical Perspective of the 300th Anniversary: A Mission and a Presidio at the Watershed of Arroyo San Pedro and Rio San Antonio,” with a continuing education credit available.

Organized by the Bexar Heritage and Parks Department, it is the third in a series of symposiums hosted by the County and will conclude with a publication of all three this year.

Those wishing to attend are encouraged to pre-register at www.bexar.org/symposium. Admission is free, with courtesy parking available at the Bexar County Parking Garage. The symposium will be live streamed online at the same website for those unable to attend.

WHEN: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 24, 2018

WHERE: Bexar County Courthouse, 100 Dolorosa, San Antonio, Texas 78205
Double-Height Courtroom, 2nd Floor

WHO: Bexar County Judge Nelson Wolff
Bexar County Historical Commission Dr. Felix D. Almaraz, Jr.
