Reentry Center Offers 2nd Chance Job Fair

After going virtual in 2020 and a scaled-down version in 2021, the Bexar County Reentry Center once again holds its 2nd Chance Job Fair as a regular in-person event this year. The event offers justice-involved individuals, who were previously incarcerated, are on probation or parole, an opportunity to speak to employers looking to hire. In addition, several community organizations will be present and explain services they offer to residents who are going through the reentry process.

The job fair will be located at the

on Thursday, April 21, 2022 from 12:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The event is free of charge to all participants; however, registration prior to the event is required. Job seekers interested in this unique opportunity to meet employers who have current job openings can register online at <https://www.bexar.org/secondchance> .

Employers who are interested in participating can still register at <https://www.bexar.org/2nd-chance-employer> .

Precinct 4 Commissioner Tommy Calvert, who champions the event said, "I am proud of our business community in Bexar County. They come through time and again to show true commitment to their customers, neighbors, and fellow residents. It's a noble cause to give your neighbor a helping hand."

Reentry Center Manager Aida Negron stated, "My team and I have been working with our justice-involved population for a long time. It is so rewarding to see an event like this come together and offer our clients a real second chance."
